PREFACE

The Graduate School Bulletin of Information represents the minimum standards established by The Graduate School for all graduate programs. Individual departments may require higher standards, and students are expected to be fully aware of their department’s requirements.

This departmental guide to graduate studies is intended to be a comprehensive guide to policies, requirements and procedures for graduate students in the Master of Fine Arts and Master of Arts programs in the Department of Art, Art History and Design. It has been reviewed and approved by The Graduate School. Where the department rules are more stringent than the Graduate School’s (as expressed in the Bulletin), the department’s rules take precedence.

IMPORTANT WEBSITES:

- Every year, the Kaneb Center for Teaching and Learning hosts a TA Orientation. You must have already obtained your netID and password in order to register for this orientation. You will need to register at: https://kaneb-app.nd.edu/pls/apex/f?p=137:101:13160459739043

- Du Lac -- http://dulac.nd.edu/

- The 2017-2018 academic year edition of du Lac: A Guide to Student Life will be published in mid-August. To learn more about campus services, the older edition will continue to be available online. Specific questions about graduate housing can be directed to the Office of Housing at: housing@nd.edu

- Honor code for those teaching needs to be on syllabus --- http://honorcode.nd.edu/

- The 2017-2018 Graduate Student Handbook may be found at the GSU website: http://gsu.nd.edu/student-resources/newprospectivestudents/

DEPARTMENT OF ART, ART HISTORY, AND DESIGN

The Department of Art, Art History and Design offers the Master of Fine Arts (M.F.A.) degree in studio art and design, and the Master of Arts (M.A.) degree in art history. In studio art and design, the department also awards the M.A. degree, but only to students who choose to leave early or who are not accepted to degree candidacy in the M.F.A. program.

The aim of the graduate program is to prepare qualified students to begin professional practice in their chosen field of studio art, design, or art history. Studio and design students may concentrate in ceramics, graphic design, industrial design, painting/drawing, photography, printmaking, or sculpture, or in a combination of these disciplines. Art history students select from a range of course offerings to fulfill their professional interests.

In addition to coursework, graduate students pursue an area of interest through a system of independent study with a faculty advisor and a graduate committee selected by the student. Students are expected to develop a personal direction that culminates in a professional quality exhibition of visual work, or a research project in art history.

PART 1: DEGREE PROGRAMS

I. MASTER OF FINE ARTS DEGREE PROGRAM

The Master of Fine Arts Degree (M.F.A.) at Notre Dame is for artists and designers with exceptional talent and strong academic skills. The program combines studio work with academic studies in art and design history and criticism. The College Art Association and most other professional institutions of higher education recognize the M.F.A. as the terminal degree for artists and designers. This degree has become the standard prerequisite for those who intend to teach at the college level. It is also appropriate for individuals seeking to further develop their professional careers as artists and designers.

Credit Hours

The M.F.A. degree is a studio and research degree that requires three years or six semesters of study and sixty graduate credit hours with a B (3.0) or better average, including six hours of art and/or design history, three hours in Graduate Seminar (ARHI 63570), and eight hours of Thesis Direction (ARST 78708).
Students who are not in residence but still in the process of finishing an M.F.A. degree must be enrolled for a minimum of one credit hour of Non-Resident Thesis (ARST 78706 or DESN 78706) each semester.

Additional Requirements
- Successful completion of Professional Practices (ARST 62704) each year.
- Admission to the third year of the M.F.A. program (M.F.A. Candidacy).
- Successful completion of a written thesis approved by the student's thesis committee.
- Completion of a thesis project; an exhibition of creative work that is reviewed and approved by at least a two-thirds majority of the art and design faculty.

Residency
The minimum residency requirement for the M.F.A. degree is registration in full-time status for two years or four semesters during the academic year.

Financial Support
Students accepted into the M.F.A. program typically receive financial aid in the form of a full tuition waiver. In addition, the department also has a limited number of stipends to award to students of exceptional talent. These stipends are given to graduate students in exchange for teaching or serving as a TA for one class per semester, and for service in the Department of Art, Art History & Design. During the first year of the graduate program, students work as Teaching Assistants teaching one undergraduate course per semester for a professor. During their second and third years, with the approval of the faculty, students serve as the primary instructor for one undergraduate class per semester. Students in good academic and disciplinary standing will continue to receive financial support for a maximum of three years. However, the Department of Art, Art History and Design reserves the right to revoke a student’s stipend and tuition waiver based on the student’s poor performance either as a teacher or as a student in the program. If special circumstances exist, the Studio and Design faculty reserve the right to accept alternative service to the Department or to the University in exchange for the student’s tuition waiver and/or stipend. Students receiving full stipend support may not work elsewhere on or off campus during the stipend period of nine months each academic year.

Students receiving tuition-only scholarships or partial stipends may work up to 20 hours per week to supplement their living expenses.
International students should check with their international advisor to make sure they are not exceeding their approved hours of employment.

Please refer to Part 2, Section III of this guide under Academic Policies for guidelines governing financial support.

Advisors and Thesis Directors

The M.F.A. candidate is advised by the Director of Graduate Studies and faculty in her/his area of study during the first and second semesters. During the second semester or early in the third semester, the candidate chooses a thesis director and two other members of the faculty in consultation with his or her thesis director to form a committee. A completed thesis committee form must be on file in the department by the beginning of the first semester of his or her second year. The first thesis committee meeting should take place before fall break of the student’s second year.

The thesis committee director must be someone from the student’s immediate area of study. The second committee member must be a member of the department faculty (including art history) but need not be a faculty member in the candidate’s immediate area. The third member is typically a member of the department, but may also be a member of the Notre Dame faculty at large. In some cases it may be desirable to take advantage of other scholars as they relate to particular aesthetic and intellectual concerns. Committee members from outside the department must be approved by the thesis director and the Director of Graduate Studies.

Committees are mandated to meet once per semester during the second year and once in the Fall semester of the third year. Meetings are initiated by the student and should occur no later than the week after fall and spring breaks. The thesis committee director will take notes during the meetings and submit them to the Director of Graduate Studies.

Other meetings as requested by the student or the committee may also be convened.

Committees generally consist of only three members. Using the entire faculty as a resource is always encouraged but the official committee is three people.

Students should consider selecting faculty for their committee that are not from their area. (For example: if there are two faculty in the area perhaps only one serves on the committee.) The breadth of experience and knowledge the entire faculty has can have a beneficial impact on the student’s studio practice.

Note: Committee members must be members of the Notre Dame faculty. Committees are generally limited to 3 members, but a fourth can be approved by the graduate director. Requests for committee members from beyond Notre Dame’s faculty (e.g., St. Mary’s College) will be considered by the Director of Graduate Studies.

Courses outside of Art, Art History & Design
Graduate students may take up to two academic courses (3 credit hours each) outside of the Department’s offerings. These classes must be graduate-credit courses with approval of the student’s area head. Therefore, a maximum of two classes are allowed beyond our Department’s offerings. It is expected that students will enroll in these classes in their second, third, and/or fourth semester. The first ‘outside’ class is taken in lieu of an art history course; the second class is taken in lieu of ‘hours’ with faculty.

The advanced undergraduate courses numbered 40000 – 59999 may, with the approval of the program chair or the director of graduate studies and the Graduate School, be taken to satisfy up to six hours of graduate credit requirements. Grades in these courses will count towards the student’s G.P.A. Programs may place additional constraints on the use of 40000 – 59999 level courses to meet their degree requirements.

For purposes of progress within a graduate department or program of study or admission to degree candidacy, no graduate credit is allowed for courses below the 40000 level.

Gender Studies Minor
The graduate minor in Gender Studies is 9 credit hours (3 classes) and several non-credit workshops in which students present their research/creative work. The 9 credit hours of Gender Studies graduate courses includes 3 credit hours in the “Interdisciplinary Core Seminar” in Gender Studies and 6 credit hours in courses either cross-listed with the Program or approved by the Graduate Minor Committee, and 2 semesters of participation in the Gender Studies Research Workshop, including a presentation of a research/creative work in this forum. The Research Workshops occur approximately six times a semester and are not linked to credit hours. Normally, they are from noon to 1pm on certain Fridays, which accommodates most graduate students’ schedules.
To earn the Gender Studies minor along with the M.F.A. degree, 2 of the 3 classes can count for both Gender Studies and our Department. (It is expected that the two classes that graduate students take outside of the Department, mentioned above, will be in the area of Gender Studies and approved by that program.) The third 3-credit class will be an additional course. Therefore, students who graduate with an M.F.A. and a Gender Studies graduate minor will have to complete 63 total hours. For more on the Gender Studies minor, see: http://genderstudies.nd.edu/

GLOBES Certificate

The GLOBES Certificate program at Notre Dame is an interdisciplinary graduate training program in environment, science, technology, and society that is housed in the John J Reilly Center. The 6-credit MFA GLOBES Certificate has the following requirements: 1 Core Course (3 credits); 1 Seminar (1 credit); 2 Modules (1 credit each); the requirement of an interdisciplinary component in the thesis would be fulfilled by the MFA’s thesis exhibition artwork.

The MFA would have a GLOBES-affiliated faculty member on her thesis committee as the 3rd or 4th member of the committee. Professors that agree to be on an MFA’s thesis committee agree to meet with the committee once a semester for the 2nd and 3rd year of study and to be a reader of the MFA’s thesis paper.

The GLOBES Core Course double-counts the one ‘outside’ 3-credit hour course requirement for the MFA, so in addition, MFAs would take a 1-credit hour GLOBES Seminar and two 1-credit hour GLOBES Modules (short, 2-week workshop type sessions) to complete the certificate requirements.

First Year

The M.F.A. candidates in their first year of study are advised by faculty in their respective areas and by the Director of Graduate Studies during both the first and second semesters. All graduate students present their creative work in two reviews each semester: during an informal review process called Walkthroughs at the middle of each semester, and during formal reviews at the end of each semester when the entire studio and design faculty are assembled. Within the month before the end of the first semester, first year graduate students are required to participate in the New Faces Exhibition in preparation for their first formal end-of-semester review with the faculty.
Second Year / Admission to M.F.A. Candidacy

At the beginning of the second year (third semester), the students meet with their committee to discuss degree progress and future plans. At this meeting, the student presents the committee with a written statement describing the work in progress. After this meeting, the committee discusses the student’s progress and makes an evaluation of the candidate’s performance and potential. The results of both meetings are reported in writing by the thesis director and copies are given to the student, the committee members, and the Director of Graduate Studies to be placed in the student’s file. This should occur by the end of the week following fall break. After the MFA reviews at the end of the fall semester, if the majority of faculty believe there is a reason for concern regarding the candidate’s success during the candidacy vote, the DGS will share this information with the student. This will allow the student to better utilize his/her spring semester and, ideally, aid them in successfully entering their candidacy year. Regardless of whether or not there is concern and/or a letter has been delivered to a student, it is possible that students will not be passed into their candidacy year.

At the beginning of the fourth semester, the student again meets with the committee and a report of the student’s progress is recorded with the Director of Graduate Studies. At the end of the fourth semester, the student presents a portfolio of creative work in order to be evaluated by the entire art and design faculty for entry into the M.F.A. thesis year. The portfolio is supplemented by a statement written by the student describing the work and the anticipated direction for the third year. After the studio and design faculty evaluates the art or design work presented by the student, additional evaluation will include the student’s teaching, professional behavior and perceived ability to complete the program successfully. An initial vote is then taken by the studio and design faculty on whether to pass the student into the third year. Students who do not receive a two-thirds majority vote by the art and design faculty will be: 1) terminated from the M.F.A. program; or 2) allowed to resubmit their portfolio at the end of the Summer Session; or 3) allowed to apply for the M.A. degree in Art or Design. A second faculty vote will determine which of the three options listed above are available to the student.

Voting eligibility is conferred on members of the art and design faculty, and other faculty members on MFA committees, unless faculty member was a student with the MFA being voted on.
If students are allowed to resubmit their portfolio and the second attempt at entering the M.F.A. thesis year fails to get a two-thirds majority vote of the art and design faculty, the student will either be terminated from the M.F.A. program or allowed to apply for the M.A. degree in Art and Design, again depending upon faculty vote.

Third Year/Thesis Exhibition and Paper

The thesis paper presents and substantiates the MFA candidate’s research and creative work. The goal is to articulate a set of motivations, ideas, positions, experiences, attitudes and/or methodological approaches to support the development of the aesthetic, material and functional form the thesis project takes; and to contextualize the work within a disciplinary history of thinking, making, and problem solving. The thesis paper will also articulate a focused approach to an artist’s or designer’s practice and/or process through written reflection, and to serve as the basis for future grant applications, exhibitions, academic conference presentations, competitions, abstracts, and/or artist’s statements, etc. The Department of Art, Art History & Design requires that the thesis paper adhere to Chicago Manual format. The length of the text may be as short as 15 pages, but will ultimately be determined through discussion with the thesis committee. Refer to the Graduate School Dissertation & Thesis Submissions site for specific information about deadlines and due dates for formatting, defense deadlines, and final submissions.

Studio Schedule

The student submits the draft to his or her thesis committee chair at the beginning of the fifth semester and should visit the Writing Center for guidance when revising the paper. After revisions, the student resubmits the paper before the fall semester break. Any writing issues must be resolved by fall break so that the student may devote full attention to the thesis project during the remainder of the year. When the thesis chair is satisfied with the paper, she signs off on it. The paper is then given to the student’s other committee members (readers) for their approval. After the readers have signed the Reader’s Report on Master’s Thesis form, it is passed on to the Director of Graduate Studies and then to the Graduate School. Students must meet the Graduate School’s formatting deadline. The Department Chairperson will make recommendations and resolve any disputes over the thesis paper. Most of the year should be directed towards creating a thematically cohesive studio thesis exhibition.
Design Schedule

The student submits a thesis proposal that includes an abstract and outline to her thesis committee at the end of the fourth semester, detailing her intended thesis project and research approach. This draft document serves as a framework to help the student think through the methodological approach for the project, and guide the student in her research throughout the summer period leading into the third year. A draft that covers the introduction, the systematic approach, literature review, and research conducted is submitted to the thesis committee at the beginning of the fifth semester. The thesis committee will provide feedback on the written content, allowing adequate time for revisions and any necessary guidance the student may seek from her committee members or through the Writing Center.

The thesis paper will continue to be refined through the end of the fifth semester and, if necessary, the beginning of the sixth semester. The remaining sections concerning project development, execution, evaluation, and potential efficacy of the proposed design solution will be included. Prior to the sixth semester break, leaving ample time for the thesis committee to generate the Reader’s Report on Master’s Thesis by the established deadline, the student will submit the thesis paper to the committee chairperson. Once the committee chair has approved the thesis, the candidate will deliver copies to her two readers. Before the formatting check deadline, the candidate will submit a copy of the paper to the Graduate School for formatting checks. Refinement, post implementation reflections, results from testing, observations, measurements of success, and statements of conclusion regarding the finalization of the thesis project should be included in the final thesis paper and must be added prior to the university’s graduate school submission deadline.

During the final semester, students in both studio and design enroll in (ARST 78708) Thesis Direction for eight (8) hours of credit. The thesis project is intended to be an independent creative project in art or design.

The thesis project is installed by the candidate and by the established deadline in an appropriate space for a public exhibition of the work. This exhibition is usually displayed in the context of an M.F.A. group show at the Snite Museum of Art. However, the thesis project may be exhibited in an alternative space locally. The student meets with the entire art and design faculty to give an oral defense of his or her exhibition. A favorable vote by two-thirds of the studio and design faculty is required before the M.F.A. degree can be granted. Voting eligibility is conferred on members of the art and design faculty and other faculty members on the MFA committee, unless faculty was a student with the MFA being voted on.

If the student fails to pass the thesis project at the end of the sixth semester, he or she must revise the project and re-submit it within one year on a date acceptable to the studio and design faculty. If the project is not accepted on the second attempt, the project may not be re-submitted and the candidate may then - and only then - apply for the M.A. degree. (A student that fails to pass the thesis project at the end of the sixth semester MAY NOT apply for the MA degree until after the thesis project is revised, re-submitted, and again does not pass after being voted on.)
The thesis credits are graded by the Director of Graduate Studies, based upon the studio and design faculty’s final vote.

Note: The M.F.A. candidate may not present a thesis project if her/his thesis paper has not been approved by her or his committee.
M.F.A. Program Schedule

Fall Semester

1st Year
Adjust to your surroundings. The Graduate Director is your curriculum advisor. However, you are encouraged to discuss curriculum with your area faculty. Prepare for the New Faces exhibition and final review. Begin to look for courses beyond the Department that will support your creative work.

Spring Semester
By now you will have established communication with area faculty. These faculty members can advise you on a course of study for your future semesters in the program. You are always able to discuss issues with the Director of Graduate Studies. Begin to select your thesis committee members.

2nd Year (first semester teaching)
Choose your thesis director. With his/her help, choose your thesis committee. Submit a completed Thesis Committee form to the Graduate Director’s office before fall break. Meet with your committee at this time. You must initiate this meeting. Show your work, present a written statement about your work to the committee. Prepare for the second-year show. Your director should provide you with a summary report of this meeting and future meetings for your records. If there is any concern from the faculty after Fall reviews, the DGS will address this with you through a letter.

Meet with your committee by mid-semester to discuss your ongoing work and your plan for presenting work for the candidacy review.

M.F.A. Candidacy Review: This is an important step towards the third year. Present your work to the entire studio/design faculty at the end of the semester. All studio/design faculty vote on your acceptance to the M.F.A. candidacy year. A 2/3 majority is needed for approval.

3rd Year
In the summer outline and begin writing a draft of the thesis paper, primarily with your thesis director. When complete, submit copies to your committee for reading and approval. This paper should be completed by the studio and design schedule deadlines. Work for the thesis project also begins in the third year. Work produced prior to the third year of study will not be accepted for the thesis project.

Continue working on the thesis. Committee meetings are not mandatory this semester but may be called by either the student or the thesis director when needed. The thesis paper must be finished and approved by your committee before the thesis project can be installed in the Snite Museum. A Readers Report on Master's Thesis form must be filled, signed by committee member readers, and turned into the office. Once installed, the studio/design faculty votes to accept or reject the exhibited work. A 2/3 majority is needed for approval.

Note: For a more detailed description of these and other procedures related to the M.F.A. program, please refer to your copy of the Department Guide to Graduate Studies

NOTE: All graduate students may take one class (and up to two) outside the art department. These classes must be graduate-credit courses with approval of the student’s area head (see page 25). The first 3-credit course will be in lieu of 3 credits of an art history course; the second 3-credit class will be in lieu of 3 credits of “hours” with a studio or design faculty member.
1. Consider having someone outside of your immediate department (i.e. art history or design history) on your committee...they will offer a different perspective that can be really helpful.

2. Look over past MFA thesis papers for ideas. They are available in the library as well as in the DGS’s office. In addition to topical inspiration, these are helpful for formatting and structure—I suggest copying the tables of contents of the good papers to reference when creating the outline.

3. Using the major deadlines given by the department and those dates dictated by the Graduate School, create your own timeline, including buffers for unexpected circumstances (committee members’ schedule conflicts, other deadlines, printing issues, etc.).

4. Build into your timeline enough time for your committee to review multiple drafts of your outline and paper. Have them agree to dates and review durations ahead of time.

5. Use the summer for research and paper topic development.

6. Start the outline as early as possible.

7. Write the rough draft by the start of the fall semester.

8. If you do not have a solid understanding of Microsoft Word, take the graduate school formatting class. The material is very basic and available in a document on the grad school website, but it is useful if you don’t know Word very well. Useful topics include working with tables of contents and tables of figures, using text styles, numbering pages and sections, etc. Mastery of these tools will save a great deal of time.

9. Use the template provided by the grad school (obtained from the website or at the formatting class). It is basically a thesis paper with filler text. You can either write your text in another document and copy/paste it into the template or begin writing in the template initially. I recommend starting in the template, as it will save you some formatting headaches.

10. Use RefWorks and Write-n-cite! These tools help to manage all your sources and format your citations for you in Word. They take a little work to figure out initially, but it’s worth it in the end. One note: when using Write-n-cite, you will find that you need to do a final formatting at the very end (where citations turn from code to the actual citation text). Be sure to do another read-through of the entire paper, as it tends to cause random little problems (creates extra spaces between some words, etc.). This is annoying, but seems to be a glitch with the program and thus unavoidable.
II. MASTER OF ARTS DEGREE: ART HISTORY

The Master of Arts degree in art history at Notre Dame addresses most areas of Western art. This program consists of two years of intensive study directed towards preparing students for continued graduate study in art history and/or professional employment. With a very active and dedicated faculty, Notre Dame is especially suited for those students desiring close attention and supervision from scholars in the field.

The M.A. degree prepares the student for more advanced graduate work by providing him or her with the opportunity to solidify general and specialized art historical knowledge and to hone research skills. The degree may also serve as a foundation for employment or further study in fields such as museology, visual image management, and art dealing and investment. Our M.A. recipients have been accepted at prestigious Ph.D. programs such as Cornell University and the Universities of California, Delaware, Maryland, Michigan (Ann Arbor), Texas (Austin), and Indiana University (Bloomington). Notre Dame program graduates also have accepted positions in art museums, historical museums and societies, and art foundations.

Master’s level research is well supported at Notre Dame by the resources of the Hesburgh Library, with over 3 million titles and journals, and the University collection of more than 230,000 slides and digital images. Significant branch libraries include those at the School of Architecture (60,000 titles), the Medieval Institute (60,000 titles), and the Department of Special Collections (27,000 titles). These resources are supplemented by those available in Chicago, which include the Ryerson Library of the Art Institute of Chicago, the Regenstein Library at the University of Chicago, and the Newberry Renaissance Library.

Also available to graduate students are the unique holdings of Notre Dame’s Snite Museum of Art. The Snite Museum, whose permanent collection includes more than 21,000 objects, is particularly strong in the areas of master drawings, French nineteenth-century oil sketches, the history of photography, and Pre-Columbian art. Students are encouraged to volunteer at the Snite Museum as a means of gaining practical experience in a variety of museum departments. The Medieval Institute holds a complete microfilm set of the Renaissance and Baroque manuscripts and photographs of the drawings (about 10,000) in the Biblioteca Ambrosiana in Milan. Students from the department have assisted in the continuing on-line cataloguing of these holdings.

Admission
Admission to the Master of Arts program in art history is based upon GRE scores, evaluation of undergraduate transcripts, a writing sample, and letters of recommendation. Applications for admission to the program in art history must be received by February 1.

Financial Support
Students accepted into the M.A. program typically receive financial aid in the form of a full tuition waiver. Students in good standing may receive financial support for two years. A limited number of paid internships at the Snite Museum of Art are available for students.

Requirements
The M.A. degree requires 36 hours of graduate credit, including six hours of thesis credit. A normal course load is nine hours per semester. Students must maintain a B (3.0 G.P.A.) or better grade average. Students are required to take at least one course or seminar in each of four subfields (that is, Ancient, Medieval, Renaissance/Baroque, and Modern/Contemporary). They also must complete Theories of Art (ARHI 63576) in the course of completing their degree. They are required to demonstrate reading ability in one foreign language—German, French, or another language approved by the graduate advisor—by the end of their first year of study. Reading ability is normally demonstrated by obtaining a passing grade on a university-administered examination.

Thesis
Students are required to write a master’s thesis. They are expected to select a thesis topic and advisor by the end of their first year of study. The completed thesis must be read and approved by their advisor and two other readers.

The student will carry out the thesis project according to the following schedule:
1. In April of the first year, an informal meeting with the student’s committee at which the student presents his or her thesis project;
2. In the first week of classes of the second year, a formal qualifying presentation of the thesis project to the student’s committee at which an annotated bibliography and two-page prospectus for the project is discussed and the committee decides whether or not the student can be advanced to candidacy;
3. In the fall semester of the second year, three credit hours of independent study toward the thesis project supervised by the student’s advisor;
4. In the spring semester of the second year, six credit hours of thesis work supervised by the student’s advisor; and
5. In the spring semester of the second year, an oral presentation of the thesis project at an Art History Student Symposium, which will be held the week after the deadline for submission of the thesis in April.

Students who are not in residence but still in the process of completing their M.A. degree must be enrolled for a minimum of one credit hour of Non-Resident Thesis (ARHI 68574) each semester.

III. FIVE-YEAR COMBINED B.A./M.A. IN ART HISTORY
Very well-qualified Notre Dame students who are interested in earning a combined undergraduate/graduate degree (B.A./M.A.) in Art History must submit a formal letter of intention to the Art History faculty by mid-March of their junior year. They will be notified of the faculty’s decision concerning their provisional admission to the program by May 1.

Combined-degree majors will fulfill all of the normal requirements for a B.A. in Art History as outlined in the most recent undergraduate catalogue, including the completion of a senior thesis, which they may or may not elect to use as the foundation for an M.A. thesis. During their senior year combined-degree students will also be required to submit a formal application to the Graduate School for admission to the M.A. program. The normal deadline for this application is February 1. The Graduate School application includes GRE scores, a letter of application, letters of reference, and a writing sample.

Schedule
During the second semester of their senior (fourth) year, students accepted into the program must identify a thesis director, thesis committee (the director plus two readers), and thesis area. An informal meeting of the committee with the student will take place before the end of the second semester to discuss his or her thesis project and give advice regarding summer research. The student must undertake six credit hours of independent research supervised by the thesis advisor in the summer between the fourth and fifth years.

The fifth year of study consists of 24 credit hours of graduate work, which combines with the summer’s six credit hours, to make a total of 30 credit hours for this M.A. degree. In the first week of classes of the fifth year (Fall semester) the student will present a thesis proposal of 1–2 pages and an annotated bibliography at a meeting of his or her thesis committee. At this meeting the committee will decide if the student is prepared to advance to candidacy. In the fall semester of the fifth year, students will also be required to demonstrate reading competency at the graduate level in a language appropriate to their area of primary concentration. Normally, the fifth-year’s 24 credit hours will be distributed as follows:

Fall Semester (four of the following five):

Required Courses (3)
Two seminars or courses in Art History
One independent study with a member of the Art History faculty who is designated as the student’s principal advisor and who will oversee the M.A. thesis.

Elective Course (1)
Either one seminar or course in art history or a related field (history, literature, philosophy, etc.), or a directed museum internship with a strong research component.

Spring Semester:
One graduate seminar or course in Art History
Six credit hours of research (Thesis) culminating in the submission of an M.A. thesis. Three additional credit hours of thesis research or a continuation of a directed museum internship.

The specific nature of the fifth-year museum internship will be defined by the museum staff in collaboration with the individual student’s faculty advisor.
IV. NON-RESEARCH MASTER OF ARTS DEGREE: STUDIO ART AND DESIGN

The Non-Research Master of Arts Degree (M.A.) program in Studio Art and Design is granted to M.F.A. students who are either not admitted to M.F.A. candidacy, or choose to leave the M.F.A. program with an M.A. degree. The Department does not regularly admit students to this program.

The Non-Research M.A. degree requires 30 course credits (GPA hours) and 40 credits overall, including six hours in Art History and three credit hours in Graduate Seminar (ARHI 63570). Students who are not in residence but still in the process of finishing an M.A. degree must be enrolled for a minimum of one credit hour of Non-Resident Thesis (ARST 78706) each semester.

Additional Requirements

- The culmination of the program includes a one-page artist statement approved by the student’s faculty advisor and a portfolio approved by the entire art and design faculty.
- Artist Statement—During the final semester of study, the student submits an artist statement to his or her major advisor who may accept it or return it to the student for revision.
- M.A. Portfolio—A visual portfolio of works chosen by the student must be presented to the art and design faculty before the end of the final semester of study. The work must be on exhibit for a minimum of one week, and all art and design faculty must be notified of the location of the display. The works chosen should represent the student’s best creative efforts and be presented in a professional manner. The presentation must receive a two-thirds favorable vote from the art and design faculty for the M.A. degree to be awarded. Voting eligibility is conferred on members of the art and design faculty and other faculty members on the MFA committee, unless faculty was a student with the MFA being voted on.
- Thesis Defense—Faculty may vote that the student needs to be present for a Thesis Defense with the faculty. In other cases, the vote of the faculty may deem a Thesis Defense unnecessary.

Residency

The minimum residency requirement for the Non-Research M.A. degree is registration in full-time status for a total of three semesters taken during the regular academic year.
Advisors and Thesis Directors
The Non-Research M.A. candidate is advised in the same manner as the M.F.A. candidate. A completed thesis committee form must be on file in the department by the end of the second semester of the candidate’s first year of study. When it becomes evident that the student will be receiving a non-research M.A. degree, the Thesis Director simply oversees the completion of all requirements.

V. General Guidelines for All Programs in the Department

Transfer Credits
The department may accept course work completed at another accredited university toward meeting its degree requirements. A student may transfer credits earned at another accredited university only if:

1. The student is in degree status at Notre Dame;
2. The courses taken are graduate courses appropriate to the Notre Dame graduate program and the student had graduate student status when he or she took these courses;
3. The courses were completed within a five-year period prior to admission to a graduate degree program at Notre Dame or while enrolled in a graduate degree program at Notre Dame;
4. Grades of “B” (3.0 on 4.0 scale) or better were achieved; and
5. The transfer is recommended by the Department Chair and approved by the Graduate School.

These five requirements also apply to the transfer of credits earned in another program at Notre Dame.

The University considers a request for credit transfer only after a student has completed one semester in a Notre Dame graduate degree program and before the semester in which the graduate degree is conferred. The university of origin must submit two transcripts directly to the Notre Dame Graduate School. Credits not earned on the semester system, such as trimester and quarter-hour credits, will be transferred on a pro-rata basis.
A student transferring from an unfinished master’s program may not transfer more than six semester credit hours into a Notre Dame master’s program.

If the student has completed a master’s or Ph.D. program, he or she may transfer up to nine semester credit hours to a Notre Dame Master’s program.

Occasionally, a student may need to do dissertation research at another institution. Normally, the student would register for the appropriate number of credit hours of research at Notre Dame. If the student does not enroll at Notre Dame and expects to count research hours earned elsewhere toward the Notre Dame degree, the student must have the approval of the department and the Graduate School in advance. The University requires similar prior approval for formal courses taken elsewhere and applied to the degree program.

No grades of transferred courses are included in the student’s G.P.A.

Degree Eligibility

Failure to complete all requirements for the master’s degree within five years results in forfeiture of degree eligibility. A master’s program that is pursued during the summer and the academic year must also be completed within five years. A student attending Summer Session only must complete all requirements within seven years.

Admission To Candidacy

To qualify for admission to candidacy, a student must be in a master’s degree program. He or she must have been enrolled in the program without interruption and maintained a minimum cumulative G.P.A. of 3.0 in approved course work. A student who seeks admission to candidacy in a research master’s program must also demonstrate research capability and receive departmental approval of his or her thesis proposal.

Admission to candidacy is a prerequisite to receiving any graduate degree. It is the student’s responsibility to apply for admission by submitting the appropriate form to the Graduate School office through the Department Chair. The applicable deadline is published in the Graduate School Calendar.
Part 2: Academic Policies

For further information, see the Bulletin of Information on Graduate Programs and Policies.

I. ENROLLMENT

Once admitted, all degree and non-degree graduate students must enroll before each semester at the times and locations announced by the University Registrar. Enrollment dates are published in the Graduate School Calendar.

Any admitted student who fails to enroll for one semester or more must apply for readmission upon return. (See “Continuous Enrollment,” below.)

All degree-seeking students are expected to maintain full-time status and to devote full time to graduate study. No degree student may hold a job, on or off campus, without the express permission of his or her department and the Graduate School.

Continuous Enrollment

All students must enroll each semester in the academic year to maintain student status. Continuous enrollment is met normally by enrollment in the University and registration in a graduate-level course relevant to the student’s program. Any exception to this rule, including a leave of absence, must be approved by the Graduate School. (See “Leave of Absence,” below.)

Degree students who have completed the coursework requirement for their degree must register for at least one credit hour per semester, including the final semester or Summer Session in which they receive their degree. These students may be considered full-time students whether or not they are in residence. Students not in residence and taking one credit hour pursuant to continuous enrollment requirements are charged a special registration fee.

A student who fails to enroll for one semester or more must apply for readmission upon return.
Continuing degree-seeking students (i.e., degree students who are eligible to continue their studies in the fall semester) may have access to University facilities and services from May through August without registering and enrolling for academic credit in the Summer Session.

Leave of Absence
For exceptional reasons and on the recommendation of the department, a student in good academic standing may request a leave of absence for a maximum of two consecutive semesters. A request for a leave of absence must be made before the semester in which the leave is taken and all leaves of absence must be approved by the Graduate School. If, for some urgent reason, a student is allowed to leave the University after the beginning of the semester, the withdrawal procedure below must be followed. If at the end of the leave of absence period the student does not return, the student is considered terminated. Application for readmission is required if the student wishes to return.

In the case of a medical leave of absence, clearance from the University Health Center is required prior to readmission.

Withdrawal from the Program
To withdraw from the University before the end of the semester, a student must inform the department and the Graduate School as well as complete the notice of withdrawal in the Office of Residence Life, 315 Main Building. For information on refunds, refer to “Tuition and Expenses” in the Graduate School Bulletin.

Upon approval of the withdrawal, the University enters a grade of “W” for each course in which the student was registered. If a student drops out of the University without following the procedure described above, a grade of “F” is recorded for each course.

The credit for any course or examination will be forfeited if the student interrupts his or her program of study for five years or more.

The University reserves the right to require the withdrawal of any student when academic performance, health status or general conduct may be judged clearly detrimental to the best interests of either the student or the University community.
II. Academic Regulations

Full-time and Part-time Students
A full-time student is one who (1) registers for nine or more credit hours of required course work per semester in the academic year or six or more credit hours in the Summer Session or (2) has completed the coursework requirements for a degree and is registered for a minimum of one credit hour. This second category includes both resident and nonresident students. (See “Continuous Enrollment,” Part 2, Section I.) A part-time student is any enrolled graduate student who does not fall within either of the preceding categories. For loan purposes, a half-time student is a part-time student who registers for at least six credit hours per semester in the academic year or three credit hours in the Summer Session.

Maximum Registration
During the academic year, a graduate student may not register for more than 12 credit hours of graduate courses, i.e., the 50000-, 60000- and 70000-level courses, each semester. An additional three credit hours of 40000-level courses may be taken if authorized by the department chair and approved by the Graduate School. In the Summer Session, a graduate student may not register for more than 10 credit hours.

Changes in Student Class Schedules
A student may add courses only during the first seven class days of the semester. Students may add courses after this time only on recommendation of the department and with approval of the Graduate School.

A student may drop courses during the first seven class days of the semester. To drop a course after this period and up to the mid-semester point (see the Graduate School Calendar for the exact date), a student must have the approval of the chair of the department offering the course, the student’s advisor and the Graduate School. A course may be dropped after the mid-semester point only in cases of serious physical or mental illness. Courses dropped after this date will be posted on the student’s permanent record with the grade of “W.”
A course taken for credit can be changed to an audit course after the mid-semester point only in cases of serious physical or mental illness. Pass/fail courses are not an option.

Course Numbers

No graduate credit is allowed for courses below the 40000 level. The advanced 40000 and 50000 level under-graduate courses may, with the approval of the department chair and the Graduate School, be taken to satisfy up to three hours only of graduate credit requirements. The course instructor must grant permission, which requires that the course be altered to a graduate level.

Courses numbered 60000 and above are advanced graduate courses open only to those who have completed the undergraduate and graduate prerequisites.

Quality point values are used to compute the student’s G.P.A. The G.P.A. is the ratio of accumulated earned quality points to the accumulated earned semester credit hours. G.P.A. computation takes into account only those grades earned in Notre Dame graduate courses by students with graduate status at Notre Dame. For courses taken in a department or college in the University, but outside the Graduate School, or taken outside the University, the grade will not be included in the G.P.A. computation.

The grades of C- and D are not awarded in the Graduate School.

A student receives the temporary grade of “I” when, for acceptable reasons, he or she has not completed the requirements for a 60000- or higher-level graduate course within the semester or summer session. No grade of “I” can be given for courses below the 60000 level or to graduating students in the final semester or final summer session of a terminal degree program.

The student then must complete the course work for a grade prior to the beginning of the final examination period of the next semester in which the student is enrolled. If a student receives an “I” (Incomplete) for a summer session course, he or she must complete the course work for a grade before the final examination period begins for the next semester or summer session (whichever comes first) in which the student is enrolled.

The University temporarily computes this grade as the equivalent of an “F” in calculating the G.P.A. When the student fulfills the above requirements, the “I” is replaced by the new grade. Faculty will be given 30 days from the last day of classes to turn in the grade change form to the Graduate School. Should the student not complete the course work as required, the “I” will convert to an “F” on the transcript.

The department and the Graduate School will review a student who receives more than one “I” in a semester or an “I” in two or more consecutive semesters, to determine his or her eligibility for continued support and enrollment.

The grades of “S” and “U” (Satisfactory and Unsatisfactory) are used in courses without semester credit hours, as well as in research courses, departmental seminars, colloquia, workshops, directed studies, field education, and skills courses. These courses, if given the grade of “S”, do figure in a student’s earned semester credit-hour total but do not figure in the computation of the G.P.A. A grade of U will not count toward the student’s earned semester credit-hour total, nor will it figure in the computation of the G.P.A.
The grade of “V” (Auditor) has neither quality-point nor credit-hour value. It is the only grade available to the registered auditor. The audit must be requested before the seventh class day of the semester; the auditor should attend the course throughout the entire semester, and it is made part of his or her permanent record. The grade of “V” cannot be changed to a credit-earning grade. Information about declaring an audit is posted at http://registrar.nd.edu/audit.shtml.

The grade of “W” (Discontinued with permission) is given for a course that a student is allowed to drop after the mid-semester point.

Examinations

Unexcused absence from a scheduled final examination results in an “F.” An absence excused in advance results in an “I” (incomplete).

Academic Good Standing

Continuation in a graduate degree program or in non-degree status, admission to degree candidacy, and graduation require maintenance of at least a 3.0 (B) cumulative grade point average (G.P.A.). A student may be dismissed from the department or program if the G.P.A. in any one semester is below 2.5 or if the G.P.A. is below 3.0 for two consecutive semesters.

An adequate G.P.A. is only one factor taken into consideration in determining a student's qualifications for an advanced degree. Other factors include teaching, overall academic and artistic performance, participation in departmental lectures and seminars, and favorable reviews of a student’s artistic production by the faculty at the end of each semester.

In addition, because graduate students in the M.F.A. program teach, the Department of Art, Art History and Design expects graduate students to act professionally inside and outside of the classroom. Graduate students are strongly discouraged from drinking alcoholic beverages with undergraduate students outside of University sponsored events.

Degree students should be aware of their department’s performance criteria. The department and the Graduate School annually evaluate each graduate student’s overall performance on the basis of these criteria. A student must be in academic good standing to be eligible for new or continued financial support.

III. Financial Support

Full-time, degree-seeking graduate students in good academic and disciplinary standing may be eligible for financial support supplied by the University.

Financial support allotted by the Graduate School for distribution by the Department includes: academic year tuition scholarships, graduate assistantships, and departmental fellowships. This financial support is awarded on the basis of availability to students of exceptional creative and academic talent. Students must be in residence to receive such support. The Graduate School directly awards summer session tuition scholarships and University fellowships.

Graduate assistants and research assistants should not work more than an average of 20 hours per week to earn their stipends. Assistants and fellows who receive a full stipend should not be employed elsewhere on or off campus. International students should check with their international advisor to make sure they are not exceeding their approved hours of employment.

Graduate assistants and research assistants are restricted to nine to twelve credit hours in formal course work per semester. Additional hours must be approved by the Director of Graduate Studies in the department.

Graduate students in the M.F.A. program cannot receive more than three years of financial support from the Graduate School or from funds allotted by the Graduate School to the Department. Graduate students in the M.A. program in Art History cannot receive more than two years of financial support.

Compliance with Federal Aid Regulations

Recipients of federal financial aid must comply with the standards of progress set by their respective departments for their particular programs of study. The director of financial aid will notify students in writing when failure to maintain progress will result in the loss of financial aid. Appeals indicating mitigating circumstances must be made in writing to the director of financial aid.
IV. Academic Integrity

Integrity in scholarship and research is an essential characteristic of our academic life and social structure in the University. Any activity that compromises the pursuit of truth and the advancement of knowledge besmirkhs the intellectual effort and may undermine confidence in the academic enterprise. A commitment to honesty is expected in all academic endeavors, and this should be continuously emphasized to students, research assistants, associates, and colleagues by mentors and academic leaders.

The procedures for ensuring academic integrity in the Graduate School are distinct from those in the Undergraduate Code of Honor. The following apply to both degree-seeking and non-degree-seeking students.

Violations of academic integrity may occur in classroom work and related academic functions or in research/scholarship endeavors. Classroom-type misconduct includes the use of information obtained from another student’s paper during an examination, plagiarism, submission of work written by someone else, falsification of data, etc. Violation of integrity in research/scholarship is deliberate fabrication, falsification, or plagiarism in proposing, performing, or reporting research or other deliberate misrepresentation in proposing, conducting, reporting, or reviewing research. Misconduct does not include errors of judgment, errors in recording, selection, or analysis of data, differences in opinions involving interpretation, or conduct unrelated to the research process. Misconduct includes practices that materially and adversely affect the integrity of scholarship and research.

Any person who has reason to believe that a violation of this policy has occurred shall discuss it on a confidential basis with the Department Chair or director of the appropriate institute. If a perceived conflict of interest exists between the chair/director and the accused, the next highest academic officer shall be notified of the charge. The chair/director shall evaluate the allegation promptly. If it is determined that there is no substantial basis for the charge, then the matter may be dismissed with the fact of dismissal being made known to the complainant and to the accused if he or she is aware of the accusation. A written summary of charges, findings, and actions shall be forwarded to the Dean of the Graduate School as a matter of documentation. Otherwise, the Chair will select an impartial panel consisting of three members, one of whom may be a graduate student, to investigate the matter. The chair will inform the accused of the charges. The panel will determine initially whether to proceed directly to a hearing to further investigate the case, or to dismiss the charges. If the panel decides to proceed directly to a hearing, the hearing will be held within 10 days of the original notification. If the panel decides that further investigation is necessary, it shall immediately notify the Chair. If it decides that a hearing is not warranted, all information gathered for this investigation will be destroyed. The utmost care will be taken to minimize any negative consequence to the accused.

The accused party must be given the opportunity to respond to any and all allegations and supporting evidence at the hearing. The response will be made to the appointed panel. The panel will make a final judgment, recommend appropriate disciplinary action, and report to the Chair in writing. The report will include all of the pertinent documentation and will be presented within 30 days after meeting with the accused. Copies of the report are to be made available to the accused, the chair, and the Dean of the Graduate School. If a violation is judged to have occurred, this might be grounds for dismissal from the University; research/scholarship violations might be reported to the sponsor of the research effort (e.g., NSF, NIH, Lilly Foundation, etc.), if appropriate.

If the student chooses to appeal, he or she must address the appeal in writing to the Dean of the Graduate School within 10 days. The student has the right to appear before the Dean or his or her delegate. The Dean may decide to appoint an ad hoc committee to handle this appeal, if deemed necessary.

Violations of academic integrity by individuals who are not students are governed by different rules; students who are working on externally sponsored programs may also be covered by sponsor-mandated rules. Contact Eric Felde, director of research compliance, (574) 631-1461 (compliance@nd.edu), for further information.

The penalty for a student who admits wrongdoing should be determined by the graduate committee of the student’s department or program.
V. POLICIES ON HARASSMENT AND OTHER ASPECTS OF STUDENT LIFE

Sexual and discriminatory harassment and harassment in general are prohibited by the University. Definitions and policies regarding all forms of harassment and other aspects of student life and behavior are described in du Lac: A Guide to Student Life (the student handbook). All policies, procedures, guidelines and codes of conduct that establish the official parameters for student life at Notre Dame are contained in this handbook. Unless otherwise noted, the policies and procedures in the handbook apply to all graduate and professional students, whether the behavior occurs on or off campus. The handbook may be obtained from the Office of Residence Life and Housing, located at 305 Main Building, and is available from the Office of Residence Life and Housing Web site at http://orlh.nd.edu.

Graduate students who want to be confidentially advised on their options regarding problems they might be having in their programs can contact John Lubker, Associate Dean of Students in the Graduate School.

A. DISCRIMINATORY HARASSMENT

Approved at the April 16, 1991 meeting of the Academic Council.

1. POLICY

The University of Notre Dame believes in the intrinsic value of all human beings. It is, moreover, committed to the full peaceable participation of all its members in the educational endeavor it fosters. This is the reason that the University prohibits discriminatory harassment as defined below. The University is also committed to the free expression and advocacy of ideas; it wishes to maintain the integrity of this commitment as well. For this reason, cases of verbal harassment are defined here with great caution. Harassment in general is prohibited elsewhere in the University’s regulations.

2. DEFINITION - For purposes of this policy:

Harassment

Harassment is any physical conduct intentionally inflicting injury on the person or property of another, or any intentional threat of such conduct, or any hostile intentional, and persistent badgering, addressed directly at another, or small group of others, that is intended to intimidate its victim(s) from any University activity, or any verbal attack, intended to provoke the victim to immediate physical retaliation.

Discriminatory Harassment
Conduct as described in A., above, constitutes discriminatory harassment, if, in addition, it is accompanied by intentionally demeaning expressions concerning the race, gender, religion, sexual orientation, or national origin of the victim(s).

3. PROHIBITION
All discriminatory harassment is prohibited.

4. ADMINISTRATION OF POLICY
It is appropriate to report any allegation of discriminatory harassment to the authorities of the University. The ways available for doing this are as follows:

a. Students
An alleged incident of discriminatory harassment by a student toward another student that occurs outside a residence hall is to be reported to the Office of Residence Life and shall be handled in the same manner as other violations of University rules and regulations. (See section of du Lac entitled University Disciplinary Procedures.)

Likewise, any alleged incident of discriminatory harassment by a student toward a faculty member or staff member is to be reported to the Office of Residence Life. Any alleged incident of discriminatory harassment by a student toward any other student that occurs in a residence hall is to be reported first to the Rector and in consultation with the Office of Residence Life, a determination shall be made as to whether the allegation should be handled at the hall level or whether the matter should be referred to the Office of Residence Life.

b. Faculty
An alleged incident of discriminatory harassment by a faculty member is to be reported to the chair of the academic department, or, in cases involving the chair, to the dean of the college. If the matter cannot be resolved at the department or college level, it is to be referred to the Provost’s Office.
c. Staff
An alleged incident of discriminatory harassment by a staff member is to be reported to the Director of Human Resources, and shall be handled by the Office of Human Resources in the same manner as any other violation of University rules and regulations as outlined in the University Human Resource Manual.

d. Administration
An alleged incident of discriminatory harassment by an administrator is to be reported to the appropriate superior officer of the person involved.

e. Ombudsperson
Notwithstanding the above, a person alleging discriminatory harassment may choose to report the incident to the University ombudsperson. This is to be a member of the University community selected by the President, in consultation with the other officers of the University, for that task. The ombudsperson, after taking information of the incident, is to help the complainant handle the matter, either by informal conciliation, or by helping the complainant proceed with the reporting procedure described above.

5. EXISTING UNIVERSITY RULES AND REGULATIONS
This policy is intended to be an addition to existing University rules and regulations and does not alter or modify any existing University rule or regulation.

VI. GRIEVANCE PROCEDURE
The purpose of this procedure is to afford graduate students in the Department of Art, Art History & Design at Notre Dame the opportunity to resolve complaints dealing with academic issues such as dismissal from graduate standing, placement or probationary status, denial of readmission to the same program (if the student was previously in good standing), and other departmental decisions that terminate or impede progress toward the degree.

A student with a grievance should first meet with the Director of Graduate Studies to discuss the grievance and the procedures available. If the grievance is against the DGS, the Chair of the Department will handle the process.
During the initial meeting with the DGS, a decision will be made based upon a mutually agreed upon course of action, either to take the complaint forward or resolve the issue at that time. If a decision is made to take the complaint forward, a meeting with the Chair of the Department, the DGS and the student will be arranged. At this meeting, a decision will be made based upon a mutually agreed upon course of action, either to take the complaint forward or resolve the issue at that time. If the decision is to take the complaint forward, a second meeting with the Chair, DGS and student will be scheduled. Before this second meeting, the Chair and the DGS will have researched appropriate information through the college and through the Graduate School in order to convey correct information back to the student. At the second meeting, a decision that is based upon the research conducted and based upon a mutually agreed upon course of action will be reached.

If the matter cannot be resolved to the student’s satisfaction, the Chair of the Department will impanel an ad hoc Grievance Committee of faculty to adjudicate the case. Appeals beyond the Department are made directly to the Graduate School. Students may seek advice from the Associate Dean of the Graduate School who serves as academic counselor before beginning a formal process with the Department of an appeal to the Graduate School. The appeal process is outlined on the pages following.

VII. GRADUATE STUDENT APPEAL PROCEDURE
Approved by the Graduate Council, Nov. 16, 2005 Updated May 14, 2015

1. Preamble

The purpose of this procedure is to afford graduate students at the University of Notre Dame the opportunity to resolve complaints dealing with academic issues and other program decisions that terminate or impede progress toward the degree, such as dismissal from graduate standing, placement on probationary status, and denial of readmission to the same program (if the student was previously in good standing).

This procedure is not to be used to address issues of sexual or discriminatory harassment (see grievance procedure available through the Office of Institutional Equity), of academic fraud (see the ‘Grievance and Appeal Procedures’ section of the Graduate School Bulletin of Information), or for disability-related grievances (see grievance procedure available through the Office of Disability Services).

This procedure is provided for continuing and returning graduate students in the Graduate School. It is not to be used by applicants for admission or by students in the Mendoza College of Business, the Law School, or the School of Architecture.

2. Program Resolution Process

Programs are required to develop a formal grievance procedure approved by the Graduate School. Graduate students must first attempt to resolve complaints at the lowest level, i.e., within the student’s program, according to grievance procedures specified in the program’s graduate student guide. If a graduate student believes that the program reached its decision resolving the student’s grievance in error, the student may appeal the decision to the Dean of the Graduate School, subject to and in accordance with Section 3 below.

3. Formal Appeal Procedure to the Dean of the Graduate School

If a graduate student decides to formally appeal a program’s decision resolving the student’s grievance, the student must submit a written request for appeal to the Graduate School’s Associate Dean for Academic Affairs as set forth below. The only grounds upon which an appeal may be based are:

1. A procedural error within the program’s stated grievance procedure which may have substantially affected the fairness or outcome of the grievance procedure.
2. New evidence that becomes available only after the conclusion of the program’s grievance procedure which reasonably may have impacted the fairness or outcome of the grievance procedure.
3. An inappropriate sanction which is grossly disproportionate to the conduct initiating the sanction, considering the relevant aggravating and/or mitigating factors.

Dissatisfaction or disagreement with a decision is not grounds for appeal.
The request for appeal must include the following information: (1) the graduate student’s name, address, email address, and phone number; (2) relevant information from the program’s grievance process (date of hearing, any written decision(s) from the program, and sanction(s)); (3) the ground(s) upon which the request for appeal is based; and (4) for each ground stated, an explanation of why the student’s appeal meets that ground (e.g., identify specific procedures that were not followed during the grievance procedure, identify any evidence discovered following the conclusion of the grievance process, or explain why the sanction is not commensurate with the underlying conduct).

The request for appeal must be submitted to the Graduate School’s Associate Dean for Academic Affairs within 30 calendar days of the program’s decision. Only the Graduate School’s Associate Dean for Academic Affairs may extend this deadline, at his or her sole discretion, in extenuating circumstances. If no request for appeal is submitted within the 30-day appeal period, and no extension has been granted by the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs, then the program’s decision becomes final and is not subject to appeal.

The Associate Dean for Academic Affairs will then convene a meeting of an ad hoc academic appeals committee, composed of three faculty members chosen by the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs, all of whom will be current members of their respective College Council. Two of the three faculty members on the appeals committee shall be from the appellant’s college, and one shall be from outside the appellant’s college, unless an appellant is enrolled in a trans-college program, in which case each college will be represented on this committee. The committee will also include one non-voting graduate student. This student may be either one of the current Graduate Student Union representatives or a substitute from the appellant’s college selected by the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs from a pool of students identified by the Graduate Student Union. The Associate Dean for Academic Affairs, who does not vote, will chair the committee. At the appellant’s request or by request of the committee, this appeals committee will also meet with the appellant. The committee may also meet with other individuals involved.
The appeals committee will make a written recommendation to the Dean of the Graduate School within 30 calendar days of receipt of the appeal. The Dean may or may not accept the committee’s recommendation, but in either case, the Dean will issue a written decision to the appellant within 30 calendar days of receipt of the committee’s recommendation. The Dean, at his or her sole discretion, in extenuating circumstances, may extend these 30-day deadlines. The Dean will send a copy of this decision letter to the department chair or the director of the program. The judgment of the Dean of the Graduate School is final.

Students who have been dismissed from their program cannot register or complete the ND Roll Call process for subsequent semesters, including the summer session, during the appeal process.

VIII. Harassment Memo from Chairperson

Our Department is fortunate to be one of those on this campus in which there is a long and important tradition of close working relationships between its faculty, staff, and students. This is a rewarding, creative, and productive tradition. To ensure its continued health, we all need to recognize and to remember the responsibilities and the boundaries that allow creativity and free thought to flourish in an atmosphere of mutual respect and trust. In line with University of Notre Dame policy, this Department has no tolerance for actions that may compromise our professional working environment. So that everyone is clear about these guidelines, they are reproduced below. Print and online versions of these may be found in the Faculty Handbook, in the Department Guide to Graduate Studies, and in du Lac. Should you wish to report any instances of harassment, you should follow the procedures laid out below. You may also contact me (rgray@nd.edu or 1-7452), or Associate Chairperson Maria Tomasula (mtomasul@nd.edu or 1-7650). I can be found in 306 Riley Hall, which should be considered a safe space. Maria Tomasula can be found in 320 Riley Hall, which should also be considered a safe place. All conversations regarding this matter are strictly confidential.

Richard Gray, Chairperson

IX. SEXUAL HARASSMENT POLICY AND GRIEVANCE PROCEDURES FOR STUDENTS

Sexual harassment, which includes sexual misconduct and sexual assault, is a form of sex discrimination, which is prohibited under Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972. Because of the seriousness of these offenses, the University has adopted a specific Sexual Misconduct and Sexual Assault Policy, which is attached to the end of this document.

The Office of Student Affairs has designated a Deputy Title IX Coordinator and his/her designees to handle student-on-student sexual harassment:

Deputy Title IX Coordinator
Office of Student Affairs
316 Main Building
University of Notre Dame
Notre Dame, IN 46556
(574) 631-7728
DepTitleIXCoordinator@nd.edu

The University has designated the Director of its Office of Institutional Equity to handle all inquiries regarding its efforts to comply with and carry out its responsibilities under Title IX. The Title IX coordinator may be contacted as follows:

Office of Institutional Equity
100 Grace Hall
University of Notre Dame
Notre Dame, IN 46556
(574) 631-0444

Sexual Harassment Policy

Sexual harassment of any kind is inconsistent with the University’s values and incompatible with the safe, healthy environment that the Notre Dame community expects. The determination of what constitutes sexual harassment will vary with the particular circumstances, but may be described generally as unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal, non-verbal, or physical conduct of a sexual nature when such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual’s performance, creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive University environment, or limiting participation in University activities.

The following procedures apply for student-on-student sexual harassment, outside of a University employment setting. Students seeking information regarding discrimination or harassment by faculty or staff, or who wish to report discrimination or harassment they experienced in a University employment setting, should consult the Office of Institutional Equity at (574) 631-0444 or equity.nd.edu.

Sexual Harassment Grievance Procedures

Students who believe they are victims of sexual harassment by another student may have the option of proceeding informally or formally. The student may find informal resolution particularly appropriate if the conduct is isolated and of the following nature: sexual innuendo; display or distribution of drawings, pictures or other materials with a sexual content; sexual or "dirty" jokes; or comments with sexual content. Please note that the formal report process is available for harassment of any nature, and that these examples are not intended to discourage use of the formal report process.

Informal resolution is not an option for cases of sexual misconduct or sexual assault, including sexual or inappropriate touching of any kind. For information on how to formally report sexual misconduct and sexual assault, see the Sexual Misconduct and Sexual Assault Policy.

Sexual Harassment Informal Resolution

If a student chooses to proceed informally, the student can report the harassment to an administrator, residence hall rector (or Director of the Office of Housing for students who reside off-campus), or academic Dean who has the authority to end the harassment, and specify that they wish to proceed informally. The person receiving the report should consult with their supervisor or with the Office of Student Affairs Deputy Title IX Coordinator throughout the informal resolution process.

If the matter is resolved informally to the satisfaction of the reporting party, the person to whom the report was initially made will send a written summary of the matter to the Deputy Title IX Coordinator. The purpose of this summary is twofold: (1) to ensure that the University is aware of repeat incidents by the same harasser and (2) for record-keeping purposes so that the University can gauge the effectiveness of its anti-harassment policy and programs. This summary will be kept in a separate sexual harassment file and will be consulted for the two purposes set forth in this paragraph.

If the matter is not resolved informally to the satisfaction of the reporting party, the student can submit a request for formal resolution. This request must be submitted in writing to the Deputy Title IX Coordinator within ten (10) days of the informal resolution.
Sexual Harassment Formal Resolution

If a student chooses to proceed formally, the student must ordinarily submit a written report to the Deputy Title IX Coordinator for investigation. Subject to the discretion of the Deputy Title IX Coordinator, this report should include the name, address, telephone number, and class year of the reporting student; a detailed description of the conduct that the reporting party alleges to be discriminatory or harassing; name(s) of the person against whom the complaint is being made; and the name(s) of witnesses (if any). The reporting party should make every effort to submit the written complaint within thirty (30) business days of the alleged conduct.

The Deputy Title IX Coordinator or his/her designee will investigate the complaint. Depending on the nature of the allegations, the investigation could include interviews with the reporting party, the accused individual and/or witnesses; review of written documentation and relevant policies; and any other steps necessary to thoroughly investigate the allegations. The Deputy Title IX Coordinator will conclude the investigation within sixty (60) calendar days except in extraordinary circumstances. If the investigation cannot be completed in that time period, the Deputy Title IX Coordinator will contact the reporting party and provide a time frame in which the investigation will be completed. At the conclusion of the investigation, the Deputy Title IX Coordinator, in conjunction with a tripartite board in Student Affairs, may refer the complaint to the Office of Residence Life for resolution through the University’s disciplinary process. For information regarding the University’s disciplinary process, please see University Disciplinary Procedures.

Sexual Misconduct and Sexual Assault Policy

Introduction

Sexual misconduct of any kind is inconsistent with the University’s values and incompatible with the safe, healthy environment that the Notre Dame community expects. All members of this community share responsibility for creating and maintaining an environment, which promotes the safety and dignity of each individual. The most egregious form of sexual misconduct is sexual assault, which is an affront to justice that will not be tolerated at Notre Dame. Federal law views sexual misconduct and sexual assault as forms of sexual harassment prohibited under Title IX. Sexual assault also violates state law as well as University policy. Students found responsible for sexual misconduct or sexual assault will ordinarily face disciplinary sanctions up to and including dismissal from the University.

The University believes that no person should bear the effects of sexual assault alone. When a sexual assault occurs, the University’s paramount concern is for the safety, health and wellbeing of those impacted. To support and assist students, the University provides a wide range of services and resources. Please see the section below on Resources for Medical, Counseling and Pastoral Care or the Committee on Sexual Assault Prevention website at csap.nd.edu to learn more about these resources.

Sexual Misconduct Offenses

Sexual misconduct offenses that are prohibited are:

- Non-consensual sexual intercourse, which is any sexual intercourse by any person upon another without consent. It includes oral, anal and vaginal penetration, to any degree, with any object. It is referred to as “sexual assault” in this policy.

- Non-consensual sexual contact, which is any sexual touching with any object, by any person upon another, without consent. Sexual touching is contact of a sexual nature, however slight.

- Other forms of sexual misconduct include, but are not limited to:
  - Indecent Exposure
  - Sexual exhibitionism
  - Sex-based cyber-harassment
  - Prostitution or the solicitation of a prostitute
  - Peeping or other voyeurism
  - Going beyond the boundaries of consent, e.g., by allowing others to view consensual sex or the non-consensual video or audiotaping of sexual activity.

Consent means informed, freely given agreement, communicated by clearly understandable words or actions, to participate in each form of sexual activity. Consent cannot be inferred from silence, passivity, or lack of active resistance. A current or previous dating or sexual relationship is not sufficient to constitute consent, and consent to one form of sexual activity does not imply consent to other forms of sexual activity. By definition, there is no consent when there is a threat of force or violence or any other form of coercion or intimidation, physical or psychological. A person who is the object of sexual aggression is not required to physically or otherwise resist the aggressor; the lack of informed, freely given consent to sexual contact constitutes sexual misconduct.
Intoxication is not an excuse for failure to obtain consent. A person incapacitated by alcohol or drug consumption, or who is unconscious or asleep or otherwise physically impaired, is incapable of giving consent.

Privacy and Confidentiality

Confidential Resources

Under Indiana law, if a student wishes the details of an incident to be kept strictly confidential, she or he can speak with counselors at the University Counseling Center, health providers, or off-campus rape crisis resources, such as S-O-S, the rape crisis center for St. Joseph County. Religious staff in Campus Ministry will also honor a student’s request for confidentiality. These individuals will honor confidentiality unless there is an imminent danger to the student or to others.

Parameters of Confidentiality and Mandated Title IX Investigations

In all instances and to the extent possible, the University will protect the privacy of all parties to a report of sexual misconduct or sexual assault. That said, under federal law, campus officials (with the exception of those listed under Confidential Resources, above) who receive a report of sexual assault, whether from the student involved or a third party, must share that information with the appropriate University authorities for investigation and follow-up. The University is obligated under the law to investigate the complaint, to take action to eliminate sexual harassment and sexual assault, prevent its recurrence and address its effects. An administrative investigation under Title IX must be initiated if the University has enough information to reasonably determine key facts, e.g., time, date, location and names of parties involved in an alleged incident. Ordinarily, this administrative investigation will include a review of statements obtained from either party, interviews with both parties, interviews with witnesses as appropriate and review of relevant documentary evidence, and will be conducted by the Student Affairs Deputy Title IX Coordinator or his/her designee. The University is obligated to conduct this investigation regardless of the complainant’s requests.

In the course of the administrative investigation, information will be shared as necessary with people who need to know, such as investigators, witnesses, and the accused. Any response by the University may be hindered by the complainant’s requests for anonymity and/or inaction.

Reporting Sexual Misconduct and Sexual Assault

To report an incident of sexual misconduct or sexual assault, please call Notre Dame Security Police at 911 or (574) 631-5555; NDSP is available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. During business hours, you may also call or email the Deputy Title IX Coordinator or his/her designee at (574)631-7728 or DepTitleIXCoordinator@nd.edu.

Additional University Steps in Responding to a Complaint of Sexual Misconduct or Sexual Assault

1) Assignment of a Sexual Assault Resource Coordinator (SARC)
Whenever the University receives a report of sexual misconduct or sexual assault, the complainant will be referred to a Sexual Assault Resource Coordinator (SARC) who will serve as a resource person to the complainant to identify, explain and navigate the complainant’s reporting options and the available support services. This can include referrals to counseling, educational support, pastoral care, and medical treatment, and information about University and legal processes. The SARC can also provide assistance in rearranging class schedules, extracurricular activities, housing and on-campus dining arrangements; to the extent that a student’s requests are reasonable and can be accommodated, every effort will be made to do so. Where appropriate, the goal of any adjustment will be to minimize the burden on the complainant’s educational program. Similarly, an accused student will also be assigned a SARC, to provide him or her with support, information and assistance.

2) No Contact Orders Issued to the Complainant and the Accused
Upon receipt of a report of alleged sexual misconduct in which the accused is a current Notre Dame student, the Deputy Title IX Coordinator shall issue no contact orders to the complainant and accused.

Intimidation or Threats to Inhibit Reporting

The University strongly encourages students to report any incident of sexual misconduct or sexual assault. Notre Dame takes these reports very seriously. Any actual or threatened retaliation or act of intimidation to prevent or otherwise obstruct the reporting of sexual misconduct or sexual assault or the participation in proceedings relating to sexual misconduct or sexual assault by an accused student or third party is itself prohibited and will result in disciplinary sanctions. A complainant or witness who is threatened in any way should immediately report these concerns to their assigned Sexual Assault Resource Coordinator (SARC) or to NDSP by calling (574) 631-5555.

Timely Warning to Campus

In an effort to provide timely notice to the Notre Dame community, and in the event of a serious crime against people that occurs on campus, where it is determined that the incident may pose a serious, ongoing threat to members of the Notre Dame community, a mass email Crime Alert is sent to all students and employees on campus and is posted on the Notre Dame Security Police (NDSP) website. Crime alerts are also posted by NDSP in the residence halls and various other buildings on campus, and are typically posted in the lobby/entrance area of the building(s) for seven days. Updates to the Notre Dame community about any particular case resulting in a Crime Alert may be distributed via email, may be posted on the Notre Dame Security Police website or may be shared with The Observer for a follow-up story.

Reporting Options

A student has the option to pursue a criminal complaint with the appropriate law enforcement agency, to pursue a complaint through the University disciplinary process, or to pursue both processes consecutively or concurrently. Regardless of the option chosen the University will initiate an administrative investigation under Title IX.

Option 1: Criminal Complaint

The University encourages students to report all incidents of sexual misconduct or sexual assault to the police. If the incident occurred on Notre Dame property, Notre Dame Security Police, a duly licensed police agency in the state of Indiana, is the appropriate agency with which to file a report. Off-campus incidents will likely fall in the jurisdiction of the South Bend, St. Joseph County or Mishawaka police departments. Notre Dame Security Police (911 or (574) 631-5555) can assist with contacting the appropriate agency.

Incidents of sexual misconduct involving students that are reported to Notre Dame Security Police will also be referred to the Deputy Title IX Coordinator in the Office of Student Affairs for follow-up and administrative investigation. Similarly, the Deputy Coordinator will follow-up where appropriate in those instances where the University has a report of an incident of sexual misconduct or sexual assault that has been reported to another police agency.

The administrative investigation conducted by the Deputy Title IX Coordinator or his/her designee is distinct from the criminal investigation and flows from the University's obligation under Title IX to ensure that it is providing a safe environment for all students. If a complainant wishes to pursue a criminal complaint exclusively, the complainant may choose to temporarily defer the administrative investigation and/or disciplinary process by making a formal written request to the Deputy Title IX Coordinator, which may delay the administrative investigation and the University’s ability to respond. The University may continue its administrative investigation where it has reason to believe that the alleged harasser may be an imminent threat to the safety of the complainant and/or other students. At any time, the complainant may choose to rescind the deferral by making a formal written request to the Deputy Title IX Coordinator, electing to resume the administrative investigation and/or disciplinary process. The University will maintain documentation of the date of deferral. Information obtained through the criminal investigation may be used by the Office of Residence Life for consideration in the University disciplinary process.

If a student pursues a criminal complaint, a member of the Office of Campus Safety will request that the St. Joseph County Prosecutor’s Office keep the University informed and immediately advise of its decision whether to prosecute the complaint. The University will maintain documentation of the date of the request to the Prosecutor’s Office. In cases where the Prosecutor’s Office declines prosecution, a member of the Office of Campus Safety will provide written notice to the complainant of the Prosecutor’s decision.

Option 2: University Disciplinary Process

Sexual misconduct involving students, including sexual assaults whether or not they have been reported to a police agency, should also be reported to the University for investigation and resolution through University processes. If a student reports an incident of sexual misconduct or sexual assault to the University, the Deputy Title IX Coordinator in the Office of Student Affairs or his/her designee will conduct an administrative investigation. Ordinarily, an administrative investigation will include a review of statements obtained from either party, interviews with both parties, interviews with witnesses as appropriate and review of relevant documentary evidence. Once the investigation is complete, the Deputy Title IX Coordinator or his/her designee, in conjunction with a tripartite board in Student Affairs, will make a determination about whether the case should be referred to the Office of Residence Life for resolution. Information obtained through the administrative investigation may be used by the Office of Residence Life for consideration in the University disciplinary process, with or without the cooperation of the complainant.

Below is information regarding the University’s Disciplinary Procedures for addressing incidents of alleged sexual misconduct or sexual assault.

Disciplinary Settings

Utilizing the preliminary information they receive about the conduct in question, the Office of Residence Life decides whether to proceed with a given case as either a Disciplinary Conference or a Disciplinary Hearing. A Disciplinary Hearing is ordinarily scheduled when the nature or severity of the charges is such that a finding of responsibility could result in the student’s separation from the University (i.e., temporary or permanent dismissal). If the charges are less serious and finding a student responsible will not likely lead to disciplinary separation, the Office of Residence Life will schedule a Disciplinary Conference.

Disciplinary Conference

Disciplinary Conferences are intended to allow for the investigation, discussion, and resolution of alleged violations of University regulations and are ordinarily conducted by one or two staff members from the Office of Residence Life and/or their designee(s). Students may be accompanied to a Disciplinary Conference by their rector and/or another hall staff member.

A list of some possible University sanctions are available. With the exception of temporary or permanent dismissal, any of these sanctions may be imposed as the result of a Disciplinary Conference. The results of Disciplinary Conferences are documented, and this record may be used to establish a student’s disciplinary history at the University.

In the event a student receives notice and fails to appear for a Disciplinary Conference, the Office of Residence Life and/or designee reserves the right to render a decision in their absence. A charged student can upon request receive an excused absence in order to attend a Disciplinary Conference.

If an Office of Residence Life staff member or designee conducting a Disciplinary Conference receives information that suggests a Disciplinary Hearing would be a more appropriate setting, the staff member or designee will stop the Disciplinary Conference. A Disciplinary Hearing will then be scheduled and conducted in accordance with Disciplinary Hearing procedures.

Disciplinary Hearing

Disciplinary Hearings are more formal in nature than Disciplinary Conferences. These hearings are scheduled and conducted before a panel of two or more Office of Residence Life staff members and/or their designee(s). In a Disciplinary Hearing, a student charged with violation(s) of University policy is entitled to the following:

1. The student will receive written notification of charges at least five business days in advance of the Disciplinary Hearing. The Office of Residence Life reserves the right to provide less than five business days’ notice when information about an alleged violation is received between the end of the spring semester and Commencement, i.e., Senior Week.

2. Upon request of the charged student, the Office of Residence Life will provide the student with the name(s) of any witness(es) invited to the Disciplinary Hearing.

3. The charged student may be assisted, but not represented, by a peer student at the Disciplinary Hearing. A peer student for a charged undergraduate student is another undergraduate student. A peer student for a charged graduate or professional student is another graduate or professional student. In no case shall students proceed through an attorney. The Office of Residence Life staff members or their designee(s) shall deal directly with the student charged and not through any third party.

4. The charged student shall have the opportunity to present his or her own report of the incident(s) and to present witness(es) to the incident during the Disciplinary Hearing, as well as an opportunity to submit written statement(s) following the Disciplinary Hearing. The charged student shall provide the Office of Residence Life with the name(s) of any witness(es) he or she plans to invite to the Disciplinary Hearing. In general, testimony from witnesses who do not have direct knowledge of the incident in question is permitted only at the discretion of the hearing panel.

5. The charged student shall have the opportunity to hear and respond to all information presented during the Disciplinary Hearing. A charged student’s questions and responses should be directed only toward the hearing panel, not to any witness.

6. The Disciplinary Hearing panel shall not make a final decision about a charged student’s case before his or her Disciplinary Hearing process is complete.

7. The charged student shall be given written notification and explanation for the decision and the disciplinary action taken by the Disciplinary Hearing panel.

8. The charged student shall have the opportunity for a case review upon the completion of the Disciplinary Hearing process, as outlined in this publication. Disciplinary Hearings are closed to all but principal parties, witnesses, peer students (as described above at (3)), appropriate residence hall staff, and Office of Student Affairs and Office of Residence Life staff and/or their designee(s). Should the charged student fail to attend a Disciplinary Hearing after being notified by the Office of Residence Life, the Disciplinary Hearing will proceed and a decision will be made in his or her absence. A representative may not appear in the place of a charged student. A charged student can upon request receive an excused absence in order to attend a Disciplinary Hearing.

A Disciplinary Hearing may result in the imposition of sanctions, including temporary dismissal or permanent dismissal. The results of these hearings are documented and may be used to establish a student’s disciplinary history at the University.

Disciplinary Process for Incidents of Alleged Sexual Harassment.

Sexual Misconduct or Sexual Assault

If a student chooses to proceed with the disciplinary process following a Title IX administrative investigation, he or she will prepare a written report of the incident, and the student’s role within the disciplinary process will be that of a “complainant.” In some instances, the University may, in its discretion, choose to initiate a disciplinary complaint on its own. Information obtained through the administrative investigation may be used by the Office of Residence Life for consideration in the University disciplinary process, with or without the cooperation of the complainant.

An accused student will be informed of the nature of the charges by the Office of Residence Life, and may, in instances where there is a student complainant, obtain a copy of the complainant’s written statement after preparing his or her own written description of the incident. In turn, the accused student’s written description will be shared with the student complainant, if any.

Reports of sexual harassment, sexual misconduct or sexual assault by a student shall be addressed through the University’s student disciplinary process described above. In addition, for matters of alleged sexual harassment, sexual misconduct or sexual assault:

- Both the complainant and the accused student will receive equivalent notice of the process;
- The complainant will have the opportunity to be present throughout the entire Disciplinary Conference or Disciplinary Hearing;
- The complainant will be entitled to the same opportunity to have others present during a Disciplinary Conference or a Disciplinary Hearing as is provided to the accused student, including Hall Staff and/or a peer support person;

- Both the complainant and the accused student will have the opportunity to present witnesses with information pertinent to the alleged sexual harassment, sexual misconduct or sexual assault, and any relevant information to the hearing panel during the disciplinary process;

- The complainant will be provided options for reasonable alternative arrangements if he or she does not want to be present in the same room as the accused student during the Disciplinary Conference or Disciplinary Hearing;

- During the Disciplinary Conference or Disciplinary Hearing, testimony regarding any party’s past sexual conduct will ordinarily not be permitted, except in those instances where there was a prior sexual relationship between the parties and the testimony may be relevant to the issue of consent. If the accused student is found responsible for the conduct alleged in the complaint, his or her past sexual misconduct, if any, may be considered in determining the appropriate sanction;

- The complainant and the accused student will be informed in writing of the outcome of the Disciplinary Conference or Disciplinary Hearing in cases of alleged crimes of violence (as defined by section 16 of title 18, United States Code) or a non-forcible sex offense. If the complainant is deceased as a result of the crime or offense, the next of kin shall be informed in writing of the outcome of the Disciplinary Conference or Disciplinary Hearing upon written request. A Disciplinary Hearing may result in the imposition of the disciplinary sanctions listed above including temporary dismissal or permanent dismissal.

Option 3: Simultaneous Processes

A student has the option to pursue a criminal complaint with the appropriate law enforcement agency, to pursue the University’s disciplinary process, or to pursue both processes consecutively or concurrently.

Written Notice of Reporting Options

Students who report alleged sexual misconduct or sexual assault will be provided with written notice of the above referenced reporting options. The University, through the Deputy Title IX Coordinator or his/her designee, must also obtain written acknowledgment from the student of her/his decision regarding which options, if any, the student wishes to pursue.

Other Potential Policy Violations

At times, students are hesitant to report the occurrence of a sexual assault to University officials because they are concerned that they themselves, or witnesses to the misconduct, may be charged with other policy violations, e.g., parietals or alcohol violations. These behaviors are not condoned by the University, but the importance of dealing with alleged sexual misconduct or sexual assault outweighs the University’s interest in addressing lesser violations. Accordingly, in these cases, the University will not pursue disciplinary action against a student who makes a complaint of sexual misconduct or sexual assault in connection with the reporting of that incident, or against students named as witnesses to the incident.

Resources for Medical, Counseling and Pastoral Care

It is especially important for students who have been sexually assaulted to seek immediate and appropriate medical treatment. University Health Services is open 24 hours a day during the academic year and is equipped to provide confidential and professional medical care. University Health Services (UHS) can be reached in St. Liam Hall, (574) 631-7497 (24 hours). While the UHS staff is unable to perform procedures related to the collection of evidence for the purposes of pursuing criminal prosecution, they can provide assistance and support when a student requests or requires transportation to the hospital. St. Joseph’s Regional Medical Center has a specially trained sexual assault team available 24 hours a day, seven days a week; Memorial Hospital also offers these services. Under Indiana law, the tests and procedures at the hospital are free of charge if treatment is sought within 96 hours of the assault. Emergency Room staff may ask if the student wishes to speak to the police; this decision is up to the student.

The University Counseling Center is staffed by trained professionals who can provide specialized support and assistance to students who have been assaulted. Current students may seek counseling at any time, whether it is days, months or years after the incident. The confidential services of the UCC are available to the student who was assaulted and her or his friends who may need support in assisting the student. The Counseling Center can be reached at (574) 631-7336 (24 hours); in addition, a Walk-In Crisis Service is available in St. Liam Hall, Monday-Friday, 9 a.m. – 5 p.m. For further information, go to ucc.nd.edu.

S-O-S is the rape-crisis center for St. Joseph County. S-O-S is staffed by trained professionals and volunteer advocates who are available 24 hours a day. The staff can provide confidential counseling and recovery services, as well as support and information about communication with the police, family and friends. S-O-S Volunteer Advocates provide emotional support and information on the phone and in person at area hospital Emergency Departments around the clock. Specially trained professionals offer confidential counseling, group therapy, information, and referrals. The S-O-S Advocate acts as a liaison between the student and the legal process, and can accompany them to court, if desired. The 24-hour telephone number for the Rape Crisis Center is (574) 289-4357.

The religious staff in Campus Ministry are trained to provide confidential pastoral counseling and support to students who have been sexually assaulted, or to friends who wish to support and assist them. Campus Ministry can be reached at (574)631-7800 or at campusministry.nd.edu.

The on-campus resources listed above are available to all Notre Dame students including accused students and witnesses in sexual misconduct and sexual assault cases.

Consensual Relationships

Policy

Because of the potential for abuse or the appearance of abuse and the inherent differential in authority, the University prohibits any faculty member or employee of the University from engaging in a romantic and/or sexual relationship or in romantic and/or sexual conduct with any student currently enrolled as an undergraduate at Notre Dame.

Furthermore, because of the potential for abuse or the appearance of abuse and the inherent differential in authority between graduate students and their educators, counselors, and others holding positions of authority over them, the University prohibits any member of the University community from engaging in a romantic and/or sexual relationship or in romantic and/or sexual conduct with any graduate student whom he or she educates, counsels, coaches, supervises or evaluates in any way.
Likewise, because of the potential for abuse or the appearance of abuse and the inherent differential in authority, the University prohibits any member of the University community from engaging in a romantic and/or sexual relationship or in romantic and/or sexual conduct with any employee whom that person supervises or evaluates in any way.

Note: "Employee" as used in this provision does not include any student employees except for those who teach undergraduate students.

Exceptions to any of these prohibitions will be considered by the Office of the Provost or the Office of Human Resources on a limited, case-by-case basis. If you have any questions about the application or effect of this policy to an existing or potential relationship, please ask your supervisor and/or member of the Office of the Provost or the Office of Human Resources.

In keeping with this University policy, if charges of sexual harassment are made, the existence of a consensual relationship in any of the contexts stated above shall not be a defense in any proceeding brought by the Office of Residence Life and Housing, Office of the Provost, or Office of Human Resources.

Individuals who violate this provision are subject to the range of discipline listed in the sexual harassment policy under the appropriate "Resolution" section.

This policy is intended to be an addition to existing University rules and regulations and does not alter or modify any existing University rule or regulation.

Complaints pertaining to instances of student-on-student sexual harassment (including sexual misconduct and sexual assault) should be directed to the following representative from Notre Dame's Division of Student Affairs:

Heather Ryan
Deputy of Title IX Program Coordinator
574-631-7728
204 St. Liam Hall

Medical Leaves of Absence and Childbirth Accommodations

(For the Graduate School policy, see:
http://graduateschool.nd.edu/assets/216308/bulletin_2016_2017.pdf)

For students on a Childbirth Accommodation (which preserves funding), the College will provide an additional semester of funding beyond the fifth year for students in good standing. This option will make it easier for students to choose the appropriate course of action.

The College is considering the creation of a funded leave policy that would provide stipend support to students on the first semester of a Medical Leave of Absence and share a draft policy for discussion as soon as it is available.

NOTE: this document supersedes any previous policy or agreement concerning graduate funding in the College of Arts and Letters. In the case of any disagreement between the policies outlined here and those in an existing graduate handbook or other previous agreement, the policies outlined here will prevail.
Master’s theses require the approval of two official readers in addition to the thesis director.

The thesis director indicates his or her final approval of the thesis and its readiness for the readers when he or she signs the thesis. Copies are then distributed to the two official readers, who are appointed from among the regular teaching and research faculty of the student’s department. The appointment of a reader from outside the student’s department must have the Graduate School’s prior approval.

Each reader must read the thesis and promptly report the results to the Graduate School on this form. If the reader is not satisfied with any part of the thesis, he or she shall not sign this form, but rather notify the candidate and his or her advisor of this decision.

Approval of the thesis by each reader must be unconditional and must be reported on this form to the Graduate School through the department chair or director of graduate studies.

All Thesis Committee changes must be submitted in writing and approved by the Thesis Director and the Director of Graduate Studies.
The evaluation meeting is intended to provide an opportunity to assess whether the proposal, as it stands, promises a worthwhile and reasonably original thesis project and also whether the student is prepared to complete the final phase of research and writing of the thesis. At this point the committee should suggest ways of developing the research during the student’s final phase of work.

Please complete and return this evaluation to the Art Department office within two weeks from the committee meeting. The comments can reflect the committee as a whole as well as those of individual members.

1. Is the topic proposed a suitable one for a Master’s thesis? Is it too broad to be workable, too narrow to be worthwhile, not sufficiently original in conception or too ambitious?

2. Is the proposal sufficiently detailed to permit an informed judgment on the project’s merit?
3. Indicate any difficulties in the structure or methodology of the outlined project which need to be addressed.

4. Does the bibliography and other critical apparatus indicate that the student has undertaken sufficient preliminary research into the topic? Are there any deficiencies in the student’s awareness of relevant and current literature on the topic?

Decision:  [   ] The committee accepts the proposal and admits the student to candidacy.

   [   ] The committee accepts the proposal but feels that more time is needed to consult with the student.

   [   ] The committee requests that the proposal be reworked and resubmitted.

STATEMENT REGARDING APPROPRIATE CONDUCT IN RILEY HALL

The University’s Mission Statement describes Notre Dame as a Catholic academic community of higher education. In Riley Hall we seek to build a creative community dedicated to the arts and based on mutual respect for all the members of the community. In order to preserve and enhance the sense of community and to facilitate the academic work in Riley it is necessary to observe some rules of conduct.

- Riley Hall is university academic space 24/7. This applies to all classrooms, studios, computer clusters and offices in Riley Hall.

- Expectations regarding appropriate conduct in university facilities are clearly spelled out in du Lac and apply to Riley Hall.

- Policies regarding access and use of information technologies is clearly spelled out in Notre Dame’s “Responsible Use of Information Technologies” Policy. This policy specifies that curricular needs and use of technology take precedence over extra-curricular and personal use. The policy reads in part:

  University computing resources are to be used exclusively to advance the University’s mission of education, research and public service. Faculty, staff and students may use them only for purposes related to their studies, their responsibilities for providing instruction, the discharge of their duties as employees, their official business with the University and other University sanctioned or authorized activities.

  The University of Notre Dame expects compliance with all licensing agreements and University policies regarding access and use of information technologies.

Thank you for your cooperation.
